Dear Student,

I am very sorry to be the bearer of bad news. Unfortunately, your Uncle Billy Bob was killed when he tripped over his shoelaces. I am so sorry for your loss.

As you already know, your Uncle Billy Bob did not have any children. So, your Uncle left you his entire fortune that he gained from investing in a rubber band company. That fortune consists of $200,000. Your Uncle believed in investing and making his money grow and he wanted to be able to pass that along to you. So, your Uncle has made some stipulations.

Enclosed, you will find a check for only $100,000. This money is to be invested in the Stock Market for ten weeks. In order to receive the additional $100,000 you must provide me, your Uncle's lawyer, with evidence that you have participated in the Stock Market. That evidence will be in the form of a stock market portfolio. Any profits that you make during that ten weeks will also be yours to keep,

I would suggest that you start researching the Stock Market, learn about it, and find good companies in which to invest. If you have any questions, you may contact me through email at mschoenberger@medford.k12.nj.us.

Happy Investing!
